AIRLINE CODE SHARE:

A codeshare flight is a flight that is operated by one airline but sold by another under their name and flight number. Code-share flights are identified on your itinerary with the airline and flight number as booked and the name of the airline operating the flights. NOTE: when traveling on a code share flight, the gate where you check in may not identify your flight number and may identify other airlines and flight numbers

CHANGE OF GAUGE FLIGHTS:

On some routes, you must change aircraft en route even though your reservation may show only one flight number. Your itinerary will identify change-of-gauge flights by providing the city and times where the change of equipment will take place.

AIRPORT SECURITY:

The TSA requires that the name on your valid, government-issued photo ID exactly match the name on your reservation. Check permitted/prohibited items and security wait times at <http://www.tsa.gov>

Recent changes to TSA PreCheck require that only travelers enrolled in TSA PreCheck are invited to use the PreCheck lanes. For more information and to apply visit <https://www.tsa.gov/tsa-precheck/apply?gclid=CKO0-OKdkMgCFUQTHwodsFIF0A>

HAZARDOUS MATERIALS:

Federal law forbids the carriage of certain hazardous materials, such as aerosols, fireworks, and flammable liquids, aboard the aircraft. If you do not understand these restrictions, contact your airline or go to http://www.faa.gov/about/initiatives/hazmat\_safety.

We'd love to hear from you.
